LGBTQ: Moving from Letters to Stories and People

In January we hosted Bill Oliver to discuss faith and LGBTQ issues. Bill describes himself as a Christian man who happens to be gay. At our second session, Bill brought his friend Marcy, a Christian woman who happens to be transgender. In inviting Bill, we wanted someone who could help us understand the alphabet soup of LGBTQIA+. We knew with some research one of us pastors could present the information, but that it would be better to have someone with some lived experience. But I learned something much more than that in those two sessions. In telling us about themselves, Bill and Marcy showed me how important it is to tell our stories. That when discussing so many “issues,” it is better to know people than to know acronyms. Bill helped me to see that knowing who Bill is and who Marcy is matters. A lot. Too which you might be saying ... duh! Of course that’s true! I’ve discovered that so often with all of you. As I’ve come to know your story – your upbringing, your family, your values, your passions, your fears, your struggles – I’ve learned a lot more than I ever would have by reading your resume. I don’t yet know what will happen next after these sessions with Bill and Marcy. We may end up having a discussion on same-sex marriage. I hope we’ll continue engaging in these tough conversations that just aren’t happening in fruitful ways on the internet, on cable TV, or even in most families. I hope that as we have discussions on tough “issues” we will focus on the people involved. Which reminds me of two stories:

When we were discussing same-sex civil unions at church 5 or 6 years ago, one of our youth told me she was very uncomfortable with the discussion. I assumed it was because this indirectly had to do with sex, and 17 year olds don’t necessarily like talking about that with their pastor. But I was wrong.

“Why are you uncomfortable?” I asked. “Because it feels like we’re talking about people, instead of talking with them.” I wish I was that smart at 17. I wish I was now.

In the Gospel of John, there is a woman who comes to a well in the middle of the day when no one else is there. She was five times widowed (or divorced) and no one really wanted to be with her. No doubt they still talked about her. But Jesus came to the well and talked to her, asked for water, and then offered her living water. He knew her, and in knowing her he changed her life.

We’ve been known by Christ and our lives have changes. May we also seek to know the faith, stories, and humanity of one another. If we do, I think we’ll all be better for it.

God bless,
Pastor Daniel

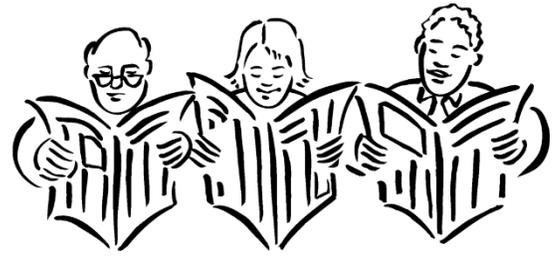

IHN is coming! Ascension will be hosting families who would otherwise be homeless through the Interfaith Hospitality Network for two weeks from February 16 until March 1. Our partner congregation, Beth-El Mennonite is hosting now and we are helping Jan 28th and 29th plus Feb 4th and 5th. They will return the favor of helping out for 2 days each week when we host. We are asking volunteers to provide meals, serve meals, host in the evening, and stay overnight. You can sign up at our Ascension website or at church. Please help us put our faith in action.

CPC Notes

- Pastor Daniel provided a devotion based on a reading from 1 Thessalonians focusing on thankfulness.

- The Organ Evaluation Committee presented a detailed report to the CPC and briefed a summary of their findings regarding our current organ's deficiencies and the reasoning behind the recommendation to replace it with a Keg pipe organ.
- After noting a decrease in 2019 revenue, Russ Johnson, treasurer, asked CPC Directors to keep a close eye on expenses for the coming year to help us maintain a balanced budget.
- Donna reported a positive response from the congregation on the Staff Salary Matching Challenge. The council approved a way forward to provide salary increases once the initiative ends and the final numbers are known. The plan will be presented at the February congregation meeting.
- The council discussed options and approved an initial plan to utilize two large gifts received during 2019. A portion will be used for a new sound system in the sanctuary, basement upgrades, additional benevolence to charitable organizations, food for the CLC, and the Youth Bell choir. Other uses will be discussed at future CPC meetings.
- John provided an update on our Strategic Planning efforts, highlighting Deacon Mary's recent conference attendance on social media marketing and the implementation of the Belonging Pathway team recommendations.
- Although not listed as a regular attendee in our constitution, the council voted to add the position of Deacon as a regular ex-officio member of the Congregation Planning Committee. The council will work to upgrade the constitution.
- Pastor Dan closed the meeting in prayer.

What's Happening

- Ascension's Annual Report to the congregation will be provided at the congregation meeting on February 16th, between services. Plan to attend!
- The yearly audit of our finances was conducted on January 18th. The committee, comprised of Sharon Versaw, Julie Barton, and Arlene Schultz will provide a report of the results at an upcoming CPC meeting. Thank you for volunteering for this important work.
- Pastor Dan will be on a week-long vacation starting February 15th.
- Coming soon – A new banner at the front of the sanctuary!
- Our online social media post engagement increased by 134%. I like that! LOL!
- David and Ellie Urlaub are taking a lead role in our plan to upgrade the basement kitchen. If you are a frequent user, please share your concerns with them on needed improvements.
- The new connections cards are generating results. Since their implementation, we've learned of prayer requests, specific interest in service, and desires to join our church. We also use them to note attendance. Please keep using them!

Coming Soon - ELCA World Hunger Appeal

Will it be piglets or chicks or water wells? What will the World Hunger appeal goal be in 2020? Maybe a whole barnyard? hmmm. The annual ELCA World Hunger appeal is coming up soon. There are over 800 million in the world that are hungry - that's about 1 in 8 people around the globe. Ascension has exceeded every goal we've set by generously giving to support those that are in need of food. Stay tuned to see how we will support the ELCA in its effort to help world hunger this year.

THANK YOU...

Thank you to everyone who gave Christmas gifts for those at the Pueblo Mental Hospital. Blessings!

Ascension appreciates Thrivent's donation of a large television for the youth room. Thank you Thrivent!

*Terrace Gardens Bingo - Prizes and Volunteers are needed. Our church has been supporting bingo at the Terrace Garden Healthcare Center for about 35 years. We call three games of bingo from 10:00-11:00AM on the third Wednesday of each month for the residents. We normally have about 15 players. We call out numbers until every player wins in each game. After they win, we help them (if needed) to the prize table where they can pick out a prize of their choice. The prizes are all donated by members of the Ascension family. We could use some of the following prizes: gently used men's clothing (sizes Large and higher), women's clothing (large and Plus sizes), sweat pants and tops (large sizes), hygiene products (body washes, lotions, tooth paste, shampoo, etc), playing cards, some small containers of ladies' perfumes, adult coloring books/crayons, and lady's jewelry. Please mark items as "Bingo Prizes" and place them in the Terrace Garden Bingo box located on the counter behind the Welcome Center. The residents really look forward to our bingo each month and it is rewarding to help them. We need to build up our pool of volunteers to help us. We've lost a couple of our volunteers because of deaths and moves. Please contact John Hayes at 572-1052 or at blazehayes@aol.com if you'd like to help or learn more about this Outreach program. Thank you for your continued support of this program.

I love Being a Member of Ascension. Ever since I left home to go to college, I've not lived close to any of my family members. While I'm envious of my friends who do, I have another family I get to see every Sunday morning - my church family. My church family spans the gamut of ages and backgrounds and they energize me every time I come to church. We look after each other and participate in God's work in his world. I am amazingly blessed to be part of the Ascension family. I also love the willingness of our congregation to delve into difficult, contentious subjects such as immigration and sexuality. Our Book Club gives me the opportunity to learn about and then discuss these issues in a non-judgmental forum. The recent LGBTQIA discussions were another example of how we broaden our understanding of issues while retaining our desire to be a welcoming church family. I had a niece who struggled with her sexuality. At one point she identified as a lesbian. Then she realized that she is transgender and now my niece is my nephew. Unfortunately during his struggle with his identity, his church removed him from their membership. No wonder the suicide rate among the LGBTQIA community is so much higher than the norm. I am thankful my church family wouldn't take these kinds of actions against anybody worshipping at Ascension.
